ED! TOPICS TERM 1, 2020

February 4 – NELSON MANDELA

ED! marks the 30th anniversary of Nelson Mandela's release from prison. We explore his remarkable life, and the impacts of apartheid on South Africa.

March 10 – ANNE FRANK

75 years on from the passing of Anne Frank and the liberation of the Nazi death camps, ED! looks at the legacy that endures.

February 11 – OUR OUTER LAYER

The skin has an incredible range of roles to fulfil, including protection, insulation, waterproofing and more. We explore our body's biggest organ and learn how to look after it.

March 17 – MAJESTIC MAMMALS

Get the facts on the world's biggest land mammals, elephants. There are three recognised species – two African and one Asian.

February 18 – BUSHFIRES

Following unprecedented devastating bushfires on the east coast of Australia, ED! looks at the causes, impacts and prevention.

March 24 – I SPY

Although they deal in secret information, spies' roles can be very different - some lead lives full of danger and excitement, while others sit at their desks doing endless research and analysis.

February 25 – THE HUMBLE SPUD

Today we love them, - boiled, fried, mashed, roasted, stuffed ... But originally they were only considered good enough to feed livestock.

March 31 – CLIMATE CHANGE

It's been in the news a lot, but what exactly is 'climate change', and should we be alarmed?

March 3 – JOURNEY JOURNALS

Get travel writing and photography tips from one of our experienced travel writers and photographers, and enter The West's Young Travel Writers' Competition if you're in Years 7-12.

April 7 – EGGS

Everything you could possibly need to know about eggs. Get egg-cited!
